

Parent Engagement
Board of Education
Wrightstown Community School District

The Wrightstown Community School District recognizes the value of establishing strong partnerships with parents in the education of their children. Working as partners, parents and educators can increase student achievement and promote positive student attitudes about school and learning.

The Wrightstown Community School District strives to have schools be open, helpful and friendly. Parents are welcome in the schools and their support and assistance is sought regarding the education of their children. Parents are treated as partners in the education process and in decisions that affect their children and families. Input is sought on District policies and plans for improvement through parent groups, social media sites, and Board meeting attendance.

Responsible parenting is promoted and supported. Efforts are made to link parents to programs and resources within the school, community, and county that provide support services to families, and to link to other parents and families for support through newsletters, the District website, and the District page in the local newspaper.

The Wrightstown Community School District works to have communication between home and school be regular, two-way, and meaningful. Effective communication requires school-initiated contact with parents and parent-initiated contact with the schools where both provide vital information about a child's strengths, challenges and accomplishments. Parents and school personnel are encouraged to share concerns with each other to better support the child's learning and success through parent-teacher conferences, on-going parent communication, and academic and career planning opportunities.
